DEBUT

STUDIO SHAMSHIRI

Interior Design
LOS ANGELES

In April 2016, siblings Pamela and Ramin Shamshiri, two of the founding partners of the AD100 firm Commune Design, decided to strike out on their own. The duo hit the ground running with a slate of high-profile assignments, including homes for celebrity power couples Anne Hathaway and Adam Shulman, Seth Rogen and Lauren Miller, and Beck and Marissa Ribisi. Pamela, the firm's design lead, describes their process as "narrative- and experience-driven." That translates into a cultivated, bohemian aesthetic built on layers of alluring textures and colors, idiosyncratic vintage furnishings, and unpretentious natural materials. Current projects include a collaboration with fellow AD100 initiates Johnston Marklee on a house in L.A.'s Pacific Palisades, restoring a classic A. Quincy Jones home in Holmby Hills, and breathing new life into a Stanford White shingled beauty in Montauk, New York.
